

Those of us in Indiana are begging you not to weaken our telephone privacy laws. In fact, more needs to be done to discourage those who constantly violate the ones we have! We are constantly bombarded by advertising and sales pressure in this country. Can't we at least have a choice as to what we're subjected to in our own homes?